

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

PRELIMINARY NOTICE.

FOR several years after the Reformation from Popery, the Protestant Clergy of Scotland had to encounter most formidable obstacles, in their endeavours to obtain even a very scanty allowance out of the opulent patrimony of the ancient Church. It is well known that in their original views, they aimed at a general appropriation of the whole, to the three great public purposes of “ an honest provision for Ministers and their families,—such as that they might have neither occasion of solicitude, “ neither yet of insolency and wantonness ;”—“ the relief of the poor “ who neither can or may travel for their sustentation ;”—and the endowment of Schools and Universities. * This project, on its first presentment to the Estates of the kingdom, had been treated with disregard and derision, and was made to yield to the ravenous cupidity of the courtiers and favourites of the day. The long train of evasive and vexatious proceedings which are known to have retarded any effectual or permanent establishment for the reformed Clergy, it would far exceed the bounds of this notice to state ; and it may be here enough to refer to some of those legislative Acts which formed the basis of that system of ecclesiastical benefices which obtained for nearly half a century after the overthrow of the Roman Catholic Church. *

* “ The first Book of Discipline : or the Policie and Discipline of the Church. “ Drawn up by Mr John Winram, Mr John Spottiswood, John Willock, Mr John “ Douglass, Mr John Row, and John Knox, and presented to the Nobilitie Anno “ 1560, and afterwards subscribed by the Kirk and Lords.” Chap. V.—“ Concerning “ the provision for the Ministers, and for the Distribution of the Rents and Possessions “ justly appertaining to the Church.”

In the Convention of the Estates holden at Edinburgh in December 1561, there was adopted a sort of compromise with the actual possessors of the ancient revenues of the Church, and “ it was concluded, decernit and determit, be the Quenis grace and Lordis of Counsaile, and utheris of the Nobilitie present, that gif the ferd part of the frutis of the hale benefices ecclesiasticall within this realme may be sufficient to sustene the Ministeris throw the hale realme, and support the Quenis Majestie to interteny and sett fordwart the commone effaris of the cuntre: Failyeing thair of, the thrid part of the saidis frutis or mair, quhill it be fund sufficient to the effect foirsaid, to be takin up yeirlie in tyme cuming, quhill ane generale ordoure be takin thairin ; Samekle thair of to be employit to the Quenis Majestie for intertenying and setting fordwart of the commone effaris

* In further illustration of this subject, a few Extracts from the Recprds of the Secret Council have been appended to this Notice.

“ of the cuntre, and samekle thair of to the Ministeris and sustentatioun

 “ and discretioun of the Quenis Majestie and counsale foirsaid, and
 “ the excrescence and superplus to be assignit to the auld posses-
 “ souris.” *

The machinery provided by this Act of Convention, as well as by an explanatory Act of the Secret Council, in February thereafter, must have been but little calculated to ensure the due execution of their avowed objects ; for the well-known Act of the Parliament holden in December 1567, under the regency of the Earl of Murray, proceeds on a recital; that “ the Ministeris hes bene lang defraudit of thair stipendis, swa
 “ that thay ar becum in greit povertie and necessitie : And notwith“ standing hes continewit in thair vocatioun without payment of thair
 “ stipendis be ane greit space ; quhairthrow thay ar, and salbe con-
 “ stranit to leif thair vocatioun, without remeid be provydit.” By this Act, the whole of the thirds of all benefices was to be paid to the Ministers ; “ ay and quhill the Kirk cum to the full possessioun of thair “ propir patrimonie, quhilk is the teindis :”—“ Provyding alwayis that
 “ the Collectouris of the saidis Ministeris mak yeirlie compt in the “ Chakker of thair intromissioun : Swa that the Ministeris may be first “ answerit of thair stipendis, appertening to everie ane of thame : And
 “ the rest and superplus to be applyit to our Soverane Lordis use.” †

* Acts of the Parliaments of Scotland, Vol. II. p. 607.

† Ib. Vol. III. p. 24.

Of the detail of proceedings in the assignation of stipends to those employed in the service of the Reformed Church, prior to this Act of Parliament, very little information remains on record; and the lists of Parochial Ministers and their respective Stipends printed in this volume, have been taken from the earliest official document of the kind that is known to exist. It was probably compiled by Mr John Gray, the person to whom a recompense is here assigned, for his labours as "Keipar of Registre of Ministers thair stipendis, Extractar thairrof, and Clerk to the General Assembleis."* It appears to have been begun in the year 1567 or 1568, but contains various interpolated entries of later date relative to Churches, in which, at its commencement, no Ministers or Readers had been established. Some of these additional entries are as late as the year 1573, and as various blanks still occur in the original, probably for the reason just alluded to, some of these have been here supplied from the Book of Assignation, or of the Platt for the year 1576, being the earliest of those now preserved in the General Register House;† and as the same record supplies the names of many parishes and ministers altogether omitted in the oldest lists, these have been printed in an appendix. It is well known that many years had gone by, after the æra of the Reformation, before the necessary complement of parochial clergy could be found or provided for.

* Vide infra, p. 2. A fac-simile of the Manuscript will be found at p. 31.

† These additions are denoted by this mark (†).

In a work which has for its object to exhibit a state of the Reformed Church of Scotland in its earlier infancy, it cannot be deemed much out of place to introduce an accurate fac-simile of the hand-writing of its first and most distinguished champion, from an original letter never before published.* The letter is characteristic and curious, as expressive of his indignant and unrelenting contempt of the ministers of that church, in the subversion of which he had been the more immediate and active instrument ; but it is perhaps more interesting still, as indicative of those desponding impressions which the recent murder of "the Good Regent" had produced on the almost indomitable spirit of the Reformer, and which, even more than his own feeble and declining health, could extort from him the wish of bidding a good night to all worldly concerns.

General Register House,
Aug. 1, 1830.

* The original is preserved among the papers of the Family of Douglas of Lochleven, at Dalmahoy ; and its publication has been permitted by the Earl of Morton, the noble descendant of the person to whom it was addressed.
